The complaining tax payers of the eight complaining townships of New Hanover will again appear, through counsel, before dumns. The Board has the power to fford the asked for relief, and we ing people, whose condition is rendered still worse by the prevailing financial panic. It is the desire and request of the Executive Committee of these dissatisfied tax payers, that one or more will be better if several prominent and reliable witnesses of this sort should ships. The Board can give the relief asked for, and they alone can save the expense and trouble of litigation before our higher Courts of law and an appeal to the Legis lature.
